JPS Team Members:

This afternoon, I was privileged to stand alongside Frank Branson, the man who is representing the legal interests of our injured team member. We held a press conference on the first floor outside the purple elevators and, with her family's permission, he and I spoke about our team member and the elevator company that not only failed her, but continues to fail us all.

I'm attaching the statement we gave to reporters, and we've put the entire press conference in the video library on the intranet. You can access it through our public website and this link

Our team member's attorney said, in front of the cameras, "I have never seen in the years I have been practicing law a more caring employer..." All of you are the reason why Mr. Branson could make that statement. The compassion you bring to JPS every day, the support you provide our patients and each other and the heart you put into every act of kindness are what will keep us strong through this trying time. Continue to keep our team member in your thoughts and prayers. And please remember to take care of yourselves.

Robert Earley, president and CEO
